Further confidence is placed in Cameron with foundation work underway at Royal Seating Corp. on another 45,000-square addition to the Cameron plant.

This follows closely the foundation work at the new site across Industrial Blvd. for a 45,000-square plant for William Volker and Co., a furniture firm.

The Royal Seating expansion is the second since the first construction and rail siding went up a few years ago. The first expansion at Royal Seating was for storage, which now is not enough, according to Walter Dossett, Jr., board chairman.

This means, of course, new investment, more jobs and a continuing healthy future for the Cameron area.

Yoemen Travel To Copperas Cove Friday Night

The Cameron Yoemen will battle Copperas Cove there Friday night entering this ballgame with a 4-1-2 record.

Copperas Cove is the largest team in the district -- even larger than Gatesville. Their quarterback, Deel Henderson, was rated all-District if not all-State before the season started.

Henderson uses a scrambling type pass and run. Johnny Hull is relied on to receive the passes.

Copperas Cove had averaged three touchdowns per game. The defense is anchored with a 261 pound guard. The average on the defensive line is 200-205 pounds.

Invitation came through Bob Mann, who started here, and who now is an assistant journalism prof. He formerly is assistant city editor of Dallas Times-Herald.

German Group To Dance At Wurstfest

The Cameron German Folk Dancers are appearing twice at the 12th annual New Braunfels Wurstfest, October 27 to November 5.

Four couples will dance the authentic Cameron presentation of a half dozen native German dances 2 p.m. and 6:30 p.m. Sunday, October 29 in the enormous Wursthalle.

The full complement of 16 dancers will appear in three afternoon performances Saturday, November 4. The group and guests will travel to New Braunfels by bus that day.

Charles Kunz directs these widely known dancers, all residents of Cameron. The group was organized for the first Cameron Folk Fete in 1970, now headed by Kunz.

The German Dancers appeared in September at the first Texas Folklife Festival, one of only about 30 dance groups among hundreds of specialty groups at the San Antonio function.

The German dancers first appeared in New Braunfels last fall, but this time return as a programmed feature group during the 10-day event. Last year, the Wurstfest drew 125,000 people and was the largest festival event in the nation during November.

The Dancers will appear in Wursthalle, 410 feet by 70 feet, before crowds of 2,500 to 3,000 people. Halle capacity.

The State Board of Insurance has lowered the fire insurance key rate of Cameron and Rockdale which should result in savings of hundreds of dollars to fire insurance buyers.

The state agency arrives at the key rate valuation, measured in cents per $100 by leveling charges for fire hazards and giving credits for fire prevention practices.

Cameron had a total of 36 cents in charges due to deficiencies in the water system, fire department, fire alarm system, building laws, street width, narrow alleys and specific fire hazards. Credits totaled four cents, which set the new key rate at 32 cents, down one cent from last year's rate, which could save insurance buyers up to $577 in fire insurance costs.

Rockdale had a reduction from 26 cents in its key rate to 25 cents, meaning a savings of about $621 if fire insurance buyers keep their fire insurance at the same level as last year.

Rockdale had a total of 30 cents in charges, due to deficiencies in the water works, water mains and building laws, as well as having a wholly volunteer fire department, no fire alarm system and specific fire hazards of overhead wires and frame ranges in the mercantile districts and over 15 percent of the roofs in the residence sections made from combustible materials.

Then Rockdale got a number of credits, totaling five cents, making the key rate 25 cents. Credits included having a 100-gallon and a 250-gallon booster tank truck, maintaining a night watch service, teaching methods of fire prevention and principles of fire prevention in schools, having an arson reward and a firemen's training school.

Move Clock Back For Time Change

That means it's time to move your clocks back one hour, which will allow you to catch up on the hour you lost when DST went into effect in the spring.

Bond Issue Awaits Vote

Polls will open at 8 a.m. Saturday in the $1,250,000 bond election issue set for voters in the Cameron school district. The polls will close at 7.

Voting will be held in the Yoe High School homemaking building.

The election will decide whether the school district can go ahead with extensive plans for remodeling existing buildings and building several new ones, including a new gym and fieldhouse.

Plans call for addition of classrooms, building covered walkways, and remodeling of present buildings. The plans also call for air conditioning of all classrooms in the present system.

A school bond information committee has been detailing plans called for in the bond issue, and speakers have appeared to civic clubs, other groups, and at a town meeting.

Plans for the schools were drawn up by members of the school board and an architectural planning firm at Bryan. The plans have been "in the mill" for about two years.

Successful passage of the bond issue would mean:

Four new classrooms for kindergarten added to Ben Milam School, along with a covered play area and covered walkways.

For Ada Henderson, remodeling of the present building is planned, with new fixtures in restrooms, new floors, and renovating of the lunchroom.

The existing gym will be turned into a girls' facility, with renovation of the showers. Present classrooms in the building will be turned over for use as the media center and a teachers lounge.

New classrooms are in the works for Yoe High, to be built on the west side of the building. The six rooms will be used for a science lab and regular classrooms. New flooring is planned for the library with new ceiling and lights.

The interior will be painted and new fixtures for the restrooms will be installed. A hall will be cut in the first floor, and new classrooms and office will be built. A new entrance will be added.

An addition between the existing vo-ag buildings will bring that facility up to state standards.

Those are the highlights of the building and renovation program. Window air conditioning units will be installed in all classrooms.

A "skin" of washed pebble stucco will be installed on all buildings on the Yoe Campus, for appearance, insulation, and the elimination of all but one window in each room for better air conditioning.

TWO PROPOSITIONS

The ballot Saturday will have two propositions. One will be for approval of the levying of ad valorem taxes to pay for the bond issue, and the other will be for passage of the bond issue.

Both propositions must pass for the success of the bond issue.

Students Plan Trick Or Treat For UNICEF

A "trick or treat for UNICEF" drive will be held this Saturday night starting at 5:30 and lasting for about an hour.

The drive is sponsored by the Cameron Church Women United and being conducted by Cameron Junior High School students.

All young people collecting will be identified by the official UNICEF orange and black collection boxes.

After the drive, the students will return to Simon-George Hall for refreshments and dancing.

Co-chairmen for the drive are Mrs. Rosalie Mondrik and Mrs. Willie Porubsky.

Each year, UNICEF, the United Nations Children's Fund, distributes supplies and equipment which reach millions of children directly. UNICEF-provided vaccines immunize children against disease. Soap and vitamin pills contribute to good health, while seeds for school gardens add to improvements in nutrition.

Businessmen Eye Chinese Trade As Barriers Fall

As China emerges from its years of isolation onto the international scene, businessmen around the world are looking toward its 750 million people as a vast, new market.

But any hopes that China's trade gates are going to swing wide and allow a flood of western goods into the country are unlikely to be realized in the near future.

Business is booming in some sectors for western salesmen, but the vast bulk of the country's trade is still being carefully conducted along the standard Chinese line of matching imports with exports—bringing in what is wanted and selling just enough of its own products to balance the books.

The fact that China is buying more at the moment than ever before is no accident. But the Chinese purchases are highly selective and consumer goods for its vast population are a long way down the shopping list.

Top priorities, and hence the biggest purchases, are advanced technological equipment, in which China lags behind the west.

After president Nixon's visit to Peking in February, China bought one of the two satellite ground stations erected by the Americans to provide advanced communications facilities during his stay.

The one million dollar station at Shanghai was the first Chinese purchase of American goods since restrictions on direct trade between the two countries were lifted by the U.S. last year.

China has followed up this purchase with an order for a second ground station to be built in Peking.

Another area in which western manufacturers have made good sales lately has been the aircraft industry.

Britain's Hawker Siddeley group will start deliveries next year of 12 Trident Jetliners bought by China at a total cost of about $100 million.

The Boeing Aircraft Company of America clinched the biggest single business deal ever between China and the United States in September when the Chinese ordered 10 707 Jet passenger planes at a cost of $125 million.

A few American businessmen attended the twice-yearly export fair in the southern China city of Canton for the first time last April.

buying handicrafts, carpets and a certain amount of chemicals for the U.S. market.

More are expected to be at the next fair, which runs from mid-October to mid-November.

Although some buying is done by the Chinese, the fairs are principally for the sale of export goods, in fact, about half of China's trade with non-communist countries is negotiated in Canton.

Altogether around 80 per cent of China's total trade is with non-communist countries, principally with Japan and West Germany.

Japanese businessmen anticipating the normalization of relations between the two countries, have been hoping to multiply trade with China.

A long line of Japanese business leaders has visited China in the past year to prepare for the future expansion of economic exchanges.

Many of them believe Japan can help China in its economic development with goods, capital and technology.

They also think China could partly replace the U.S. in the long run as a major market for Japanese goods.

There have been reports circulating in Japanese business circles that Japan is willing to supply China with massive credits for this purpose.

The question remains however of how willing China would be to accept such an offer.

China's trade pattern has settled into using the tried and trusted method of handling general export sales at the Canton fairs and leaving big orders for both imports and exports to be negotiated at higher levels in Peking.

Virtually all business transactions between foreign businessmen and Chinese officials here are measured in weeks rather than days.

Dairy Animals Place As Meat Source

Dairy animals, no strangers to the beef market, appear to be gaining in popularity as a meat source for the family dinner table.

Shannon E. Carpenter, dairy specialist with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says about a fourth of the beef consumed in the United States is from dairy breeds.

Dairy steers, he told members of Texas A&M University's annual Dairyman Short Course, usually have a lower dressing percentage and a lower carcass grade, but they grow a little faster and produce more consumer-satisfying lean.

Also, young male dairy animals produce a high quality lean meat which is enjoying increased demand throughout the nation, he added.

Carpenter, who is located at A&M's Agricultural Research and Extension Center at Overton, recounted a past feeding trial at A&M involving Holstein and Brown Swiss bull calves. Feed costs were less than 13 cents a pound of gain on animals that weighed more than 600 pounds at 220 days of age.

The bulls out-gained steers and were more efficient.

In a more recent project, one group of bull dairy calves was put on pasture, and another group was confined to a drylot and fed a 15 percent crude protein ration free choice.

Carpenter said that at the end of 217 days, the average cost on pasture animals was $104.75 and the average profit was $57.28 per calf. The drylot bulls averaged $129.83 in cost and $57.28 in profit.

Ricky Richter and Rosemary Ehler were honored at the District 10 Gold Star luncheon in Hallettsville on October 21. Also recognized were Ricky and Rosemary's parents Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Richter and Mr. and Mrs. Frankie Ehler of Cameron. Also honored was Rep. Dan Kubiak of this area.

Gold Star winners from all the eighteen counties in District 10 were recognized for their accomplishments.

For Milam County, Rosemary has been in 4-H six years. She has served as recreation leader, club reporter and on various local and county committees, including summer activities, fund raising, awards banquet, county camp and dress revue. She has placed in district food shows and district eliminations. She was a delegate to the District Recreation Laboratory in Brenham this summer and serves as a junior leader for a 4-H Clothing Project group.

Ricky was a delegate to the 1972 Texas Leadership Lab and has been Mr. 4-H. He has raised broilers for 7 years and was high point individual on the 1972 State Poultry Judging Champion team and will attend the National 4-H Poultry Judging contest in Chicago this November. Ricky has been in 4-H seven years and has served as president, treasurer and council delegates of local club and is now serving as county council treasurer.

The Gold Star Award is the highest county award that can be awarded. It is given for outstanding achievement, leadership and contribution to the county 4-H program. 4-H members must be active in 4-H and can win this award only once.

FB Leader Asks USDA Purchase

The Texas Farm Bureau is requesting the government to purchase cotton to relieve "critically depressed" prices for cotton.

In a telegram sent Oct. 20 to Senator John Tower, Texas Farm Bureau President J.T. (Red) Woodson said, "Texas Farm Bureau cotton producer respectfully request your personal assistance in expediting USDA purchases of cotton for current and future export sales."

The leader of the 135,000-member Texas Farm Bureau said export sales in volume are "urgently needed to relieve critically depressed prices for all grades and staples, and particularly for the shorter staples which predominate in Texas."

Higher Crop Production Than 1971... Pecan Estimate Declines... Citrus Crop Now Expected Higher Than 1970... Fed Cattle Down Slightly... Fall Wheat Furnishes Limited Grazing...

Texas farmers are again making records in crop production. Cotton, peanuts, soybeans and grain sorghum will exceed 1971 levels. The latest cotton estimate for the state is 3,900,000 bales. Last year's harvest was 2,579,000 bales. Yield this year should average 365 pounds per acre.

Grain sorghum production is set at 341,600,000 bushels with a record yield of 61 bushels per acre anticipated. Texas produces nearly half the nation's supply of grain sorghum.

Peanut production this year is estimated at 434,720,000 pounds compared with 366,795,000 pounds in 1971. Harvest is now more than 50 percent complete.

Soybean production will be 5,670,000 bushels, or about twice the production of 1971.

Corn production is not expected to be above last year. A 35,000,000 bushel crop is forecast for the state now as compared with 43,056,000 bushels in 1971.

Farmers Union Head Protests Cotton Price

Farmers Union registered a strong protest with Secretary of Agriculture Earl Butz over his failure to raise the cotton price support loan in the 1973 program.

In a letter to the agriculture secretary, Texas Farmers Union President Jay Naman said that "maintaining the same programs and price supports for the '73 season that have caused the low production-cost prices this year indicate a callous disregard for the nation's cotton producers."

"Your decision to retain the 19.5 cent price support is clear evidence that once again your administration of the cotton program is based on the welfare of the cotton trade at the expense of cotton producers."

The letter noted that under the law the secretary of agriculture can at his discretion set the loan at 90% of the two-year average world market which in this case would be 24 cents per pound.

PECAN production based on October 1 prospects is now forecast at 65,000,000 pounds, down from the previous estimate of 71,000,000 pounds. The 65,000,000 pound crop would be 171 percent more than the 24,000,000 pounds produced in 1971. It will be the second largest crop of record. Texas accounts for about 35 percent of the nation's total pecan production.

CITRUS in the state this year will exceed the 1971 production by about 15 percent, based on current conditions. The Texas citrus crop is forecast at 17,200,000 boxes.

Grapefruit production is expected to total 10,400,000 boxes, 13 percent above 1971. Early and mid-season oranges are forecast at 4,500,000 boxes, 19 percent above a year ago. Valencia oranges are forecast at 2,300,000 boxes, up 15 percent from last year.

CATTLE on feed being fed for slaughter in Texas total 2,091,000 head, which is 30 percent above the numbers on feed a year ago, but slightly below the 2,095,000 head on feed a month ago.

Feedlot operators intend to market 1,235,000 between now and December 31. This would be 59 percent of the number on feed and would be 30 percent more than marketed during the October 1 to December 1 period last year.

Texas continues to be number one cattle feeding state in the nation. In the major six-state feeding area—Texas, Arizona, California, Colorado, Iowa, Nebraska—there were 7,630,000 head on feed; this compared with 5,701,000 head a year ago.

WHEAT seeding throughout the state is more than two-thirds complete. However, only limited grazing was available. As of October 1, about 10 percent of the 1973 wheat crops showed sufficient growth to provide pasture. Last year, more than 20 percent of the crop was available for pasture.

Range and non-irrigated pasture conditions over the state was set at 77 percent of normal.

MILK production in Texas during September was up five percent from a year ago but three percent below the previous month's production. Total production for September was 270,000,000 pounds. Milk production per cow averaged 760 pounds which is 40 pounds above a year ago.

Weed Control For Future

Spraying herbicides today may help control weeds for many years to come, according to Dr. Rupert Palmer, weed control specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"The effects of weed control may be much more far-reaching than might be imagined," says Palmer. "Just as important as eliminating weeds at the present time is keeping them under control in the future."

The Texas A&M University specialist recently made a study of a stand of grass-herbicide or barnyard grass in a rice field. He found 125 plants per square foot, which totals 5,445,000 plants per acre. Each plant had an average of 60 seeds so his meant about 326.7 million seeds per acre.

Assuming that all the seeds remained viable and germinated each year as they did this year, it would take 60 years to deplete this year's seed crop, notes the specialist.

"Herbicides sprayed to control this stand of grass before seed production cost about $8 per acre. The on-treatment probably prevented the need for yearly control for 60 years," contends Palmer.

Our priceless forests will stand tall tomorrow.

The woodlands of Texas... towering homes and hideaway places for countless species of wildlife. Texans have come to treasure this unspoiled beauty of their land. They are proud of the beautiful, natural environment they enjoy, and they are dedicated to helping preserve it.

TP&L has worked with Texans for years in their commitment to environmental protection. The Company has always faced the challenging responsibility of preserving the environment while maintaining the capability to provide adequate electric service.

A number of new TP&L substations are designed with low-profile structures, underground distribution facilities, screen-type fencing and attractive landscaping.

Equipment used to produce and supply electricity includes air monitoring devices at lignite-fired plants and electrostatic precipitators, devices which will remove substantial amounts of particulate matter from stack emissions.

Plant-site lakes are stocked with fish and provide outdoor recreation for thousands of Texans. A seven-year study of catfish farming, as a beneficial use of surplus power plant heat, is being conducted at the Trinidad generating plant.

Texas Power & Light Company is striving to help conserve all the environmental assets possible while providing dependable electric service to the people of the TP&L territory.

IT'S A FACT: To keep pace with the electric power needs of present and future customers, Texas Power & Light Company must constantly plan and build new generating plants, lines and other facilities. Construction costs will amount to approximately $278 million during 1972 and 1973.

'Lost Horizon' Set Is Ecologists Wonderland

By Bruce Russell

HOLLYWOOD British film director Charles Jarrott, recreating James Hilton's fictional Shangri-La in a remake of "Lost Horizon", has designed a Utopia which he hopes will appeal to a modern Ecology-minded age.

"It's an ecologists wonderland," says Jarrott. "The keynote of this Utopia is simplicity. 'People spin their own clothes. The streams are crystal clear and unpolluted. People are self-sufficient. There are no motorcars, no bicycles, no smog." Jarrott has come to this recreation of a Depression time dream of an earthly paradise after considerable experience filming the intrigues of the Tudor courts. His first two films were "Anne of the Thousand

Days" and "Mary, Queen of Scots." "I adore the intrigue of the Tudor Times," he says. "But I leaped at the opportunity to do Lost Horizon because I remembered the old film very clearly. "The message is timeless, the idea that you can find a place in the world which believes in the natural way to live, a place where man can preserve thought and philosophy. "The time is even more pressing now that people should find a place to stop and think and shed the material aspects of life.

"The set designers for the film, originally made in 1937 with Ronald Coleman in the starring role, transformed the castle used in the film "Camelot" at the Warner studio into a breathtaking Tibetan lamastery with a vast stone staircase leading up to its portal. The cardboard Himalayas rigged up behind are so real that the visitor to the set has a hard job working out how the effect has been produced and where the backdrop is placed. Australian actor Peter Finch has been given the Coleman role in the new film and Charles Boyer, coming briefly out of his Parisian retirement, plays the French priest who has lived for centuries as head of the timeless Utopia. "I didn't want a psychedelic Shangri-La," Jarrott says. "I was determined to make the Utopia as real as possible and give it its roots in earth. No technicolor wonderland in the mountains." Jarrott was intrigued by the fact that Hilton, a British author who leaped from relative obscurity to being one of the world's best known novelists with "Lost Horizon", anticipated one of the scourges of the present decade. His book begins with an aeroplane hijacking -- although this one is in a worthy cause. Finch, playing a Nobel Peace Prize winner, is kidnapped by followers of the Lama who feels his life of centuries is drawing to an end and wants a young highly principled man to take over as leader of his kingdom of peace.

In the book the hero returns again to the outside world. He takes with him a beautiful girl who, once she is outside the youthful spell of the valley, crumbles into her real age and dies. Jarrott is not disclosing the end of his film which is a musical version of the story and may thus be committed to a happier ending.

Consumers Voice Their Opinion In Supermarket Poll

By Christine Laws
County Extension Agent

Some 250,000 shoppers this year went to the grocery store and said what they thought about it.

A survey made this year of some 250,000 shoppers set its sights on finding out how shoppers really feel about the food stores in which they shop -- and it pointed out some interesting things about consumers. Compusamp, a marketing research firm, was 'commissioned' by Supermarket Magazine in cooperation with the National Association of Food Chains to conduct the survey in 30 major U.S. markets.

Questions were asked about unit pricing, nutrition information, open code dating, packaging, food prices, meat grading, discount stores, pollution, coupons, "Cents-off," stamps, games and price specials.

Results of the survey include the following:

Discount Food Stores -- The majority of shoppers interviewed believed that discount stores saved them money. However, the study indicates there is reason to believe that shoppers with low levels of education and income are more likely to be interested in discount stores than are shoppers who are well-educated and who have higher incomes.

Unit Pricing -- There has been a great deal of discussion about this topic, and, at present, unit pricing is generally available somewhere if a consumer really wants it.

However, the survey indicated that even though nearly everyone says he or she wants it, very few people actually use it. And the higher a shopper's level of education, the more likely she is to consider it important.

Age and income were also factors in the answer to this question. The older the shopper, the more she considers unit pricing important and the lower the level of income, the more important it becomes.

Nutrition Information -- Current concern about nutrition is reflected in shoppers' attitudes toward nutrition information.

Sixty-three per cent of the shoppers interviewed in the survey believed that food stores should be responsible for providing shoppers with nutritional information and keeping them informed. This attitude was strongest among people whose income was between $5,000 and $15,000 a year.

Open Code Dating -- Even though some shoppers had no real understanding of open code dating and did not know how to use it, a large majority -- 89 percent -- said they want open dating.

Apparently they strongly believe open coding will 'guarantee' freshness.

Packaging -- Packaging apparently presented problems for homemakers, and many seem to doubt that the larger sizes actually represented a savings for them. Even shoppers with large families were not convinced that large sizes of items meant savings, the survey reported.

Food Prices -- Many shoppers blame supermarkets for rising food prices. And the more money and education, and the older the shopper, the more likely she is to feel the supermarket is responsible rather than farmers, processors or consumers.

Meat Grading -- Sixty-five per cent of the shoppers interviewed said they rely on their own experience in choosing meat items rather than on the government grading systems -- USDA Prime, Choice, etc. -- and this was true especially in homes where consumers were older or had children.

Survey results indicate, as might be expected, that younger shoppers who are less sure of themselves are much more likely to depend on government grades or other such quality guides to help in making decisions about what to buy.

Briscoe Speaks At Fort Worth

Dolph Briscoe carried his general campaign effort to become Governor of Texas to two new sections of the state this week.

On Tuesday, the Democratic nominee spoke to the Texas Association of Secondary School Principals in Fort Worth. On Thursday he was the guest of honor at a shrimp boil hosted by the Orange County Democratic Executive Committee.

In Fort Worth, Briscoe reiterated his educational stands taken during the primary election, and repeated at the State Democratic Convention where he was able to affect a harmonious session despite widely divergent points of view among the delegates.

"As Governor of Texas, and with the help of our Democratic Legislature, I will propose legislation which will create an expanded program of vocational-technical, career-oriented education and recommend the expansion of bi-lingual and bi-cultural education in the lower grades. I will take whatever action is necessary to halt the alarmingly high drop out rate of young Texans in our public schools," he said.

Briscoe also continued to hammer away at the need for a program of operational reforms in state government designed to coordinate activities, eliminate waste, and help achieve better state of management across the board.

"It is high time that the State of Texas began to rely more on performance budgeting and less on wishful thinking," he said in repeating his pledge to work toward establishment of a State Budget Commission.

Drinking Fun Kills

How long does the fun last? The Central Texas Alcohol Safety Action Project says, "Not long... if you drive too soon after drinking too many alcoholic beverages!" The more alcohol there is in the blood, the longer you must wait until you can drive safely. On the average, it takes one hour for each bottle of beer or each ounce of liquor to be eliminated by the body. Even if you think you are able to hold your liquor, your driving ability may be greatly impaired.

FLIGHT SOUTH

It was only a faint sound at first, but it grew louder and louder. Then I knew what it was and rushed from the house.

High overhead, dark against the bright autumn sky, a flight of geese winged instinctively toward the south. Large wings flapped in graceful rhythm, and raucous hanks of conversation brought a nostalgic ache to my throat.

"Bon voyage," I called, saluting with my whole heart the brave creatures who flew so unswervingly through uncharted skies.

And I wondered at us humans. How we doubt and fear and flail about, worrying about tomorrow and a dozen other somethings! Our course is not unknown. God promises abundant life if we but follow Him.

Your church is your guidebook to God. Worship there and find the security that comes from within, the result of understanding God and one's relationship to Him.

Let's all come and help support our school.

Statement from C. R. (Roy) Law

The public school is the greatest discovery ever conceived in the mind of man.

We are thinking of an additional tax burden of more than one million dollars for improvements of our school plant as a whole.

I have lived to see all the school buildings now in use built and I know that for minor repairs nothing has been done to these buildings since that time.

We should remember that when Ada Henderson and Yoe High School buildings were built the Cameron School District was limited to the Cameron city limits. The school district has been enlarged many times over and many millions of dollars value added to the school district to be taxed for support of the schools. The teaching load, the total load of the system has been increased proportionately and added costs through inflation has come to the school system just as it has to our grocery bill.

We, the people, have elected seven outstanding citizens to the school board charging them with the responsibility of conducting our school affairs, our school business, in a good business like manner and in the best interest of the children and the community. I am not a member of the school board. I want nothing, I ask nothing other than I be permitted to offer my best, my all for the children of today.

As one humble citizen I am deeply grateful and most appreciative of the sacrificial service the school board member delivers. Having served on school boards I know first hand of the long hours and late hours getting home. The labor of the school board member is difficult with too much criticism and seldom any word of thanks for a job well done. My prayers are ever with the school board and the administration.

The Cameron school system today is big business with a total of some 150 employees and 1700 children. There can be no perfect system as long as people do the building. We do know the administration is good, our faculty is good. As a whole our schools are good and we beg you to help make them better. It is our judgment that our school tax office is fast approaching a high standard of excellence.

We know the school board is asking the minimum required if we are to give our children the better chance to develop into better men and women. Who knows the value of any child in our schools today? If given the greater opportunity we may develop here, even one child that would be worth more than all the bonds needed. It is my personal feeling that any one of the 1700 is worth more than is being proposed.

May I say here we give the Cameron schools do not give our teachers the advantage of social security because of the determination to economize. I do not understand how we are able to get and keep good teachers.

A teacher is one who makes two ideas grow where only one formerly grew. What do we live for if it is not to make life less difficult to others. We cannot be separated in interest or divided in purpose. If there be any true measure of a man than what he does, it must be all that is needed. The best way to find happiness is to discover a way to help others be happy.

C. R. (Roy) Law

Rules Study Committee To Meet

A meeting of the Interim Rules Study Committee of the House of Representatives will be held at 10 a.m. Thursday, October 26, on the House Floor, according to Rep. Dan Kubiak, a member of that committee.

This committee will consider an ethics bill, a lobby control bill and other reforms and changes in the rules that govern the House of Representatives. Kubiak represents the Central Texas area of the state which includes 53 counties. The panel represents a cross-section of the Texas House both by area of the state and by political philosophies.

Kubiak has dedicated his past four years in the House of Representatives to reforming the rules and is a valuable asset to the committee, according to Speaker Rayford Price. A good start was made in reform rules with the actions taken during the special sessions, but further revision of House rules and procedures are necessary to bring about additional reforms and correct injustices that have been prevalent during the past decade, Kubiak stated.

Murray-Go-Round

By Tom Murray
The more things change, the more they are the same. No, that is not original. And, for that matter, neither is the call for collegiate football hustlers to buy schoolboy talent on the hoof. As a jerk sports writer, of knowledge, did couple weeks ago.

Can you believe, in this sophisticated, aware year of 1972 that a writer actually condoned illegal recruiting with that 1925 cry of the primordially, "Everybody does it, so what are you being self-righteous about?" Truth is, son, everybody does not do it. And, you show a woeful lack of knowledge in making such statements. Portions of our Eastern News Media spread that, "Everybody does it, so why not you?" propaganda among our young a few years ago. Only, then it led to drugs, burning down buildings, disrupting government or anything else you do not agree with.

Buying football players, either in or out of the Southwest Conference, is wrong. That, my friend, is exploitation of youth. College football, within the rules, is not. Need anyone remind that if "Everybody" actually did buy football talent that only about 25 major schools would buy up all the super-talent?

Some schools, and a few of their temporarily insane rabids, are once again sof up with losing they have simply decided to take advantage of the guys who are obeying the rules. So selfish, so immature are these men they would not only take a chance on embarrassing their own school but are willing to sacrifice the very life of college football.

While the lure of the "Really Big Shew," brought on by television, has almost certainly caused the recent rush to buy off the super talent-on-the-hoof, that is not anything new, either.

In fact, incredible as it may seem, many schools presently front-and-center in the Commercial Market, are the very ones who have suffered greatly in the past after having been caught with their fingers in the cash register.

Like just plain people, apparently, schools and alumni can be pinpointed as to their relative selfishness and/or immaturity. Most college Athletic Directors and and Coaches have more character and class than the "Everybody does it?" hack would dream.

And, the MCAA has the motivation...Plus the new Private Investigators to zap the violators. Mark my word.

The average American does not like law breakers. And, who is more American than a good, honest football fan.

If this is being self-righteous, young feller, then count me in!

NATIVE PINES

Texas has three native pines -- longleaf, shortleaf and loblolly. Slash pine has been introduced successfully throughout East Texas.

Badgers Down Milano Eagles

The Buckholts Badgers won their first district game as they defeated the Milano Eagles in a hard fought game 55-28.

The badgers started the scoring and kept the lead throughout the game.

The first six-point came as Larry Orsag hurled the ball to Early Webb for a 50 yd. TD. Dale Walzel added 2 more pts. on the extra point attempt. The Badgers scored again as Orsag threw two consecutive TDs passes to receivers Glenn Roseler and Carl Tomascik. Only one of the PAT attempts was successful.

Mike Williams started off the scoring for the Eagles as he raced 10 yds. to the goal line. The PAT failed. Orsag again sent two consecutive touchdown passes to Tomascik and Roesler. And again, only one PAT attempt was successful.

Finding a new receiver, Orsag sent the pigskin to Ray Homeyer for a six-point-er. Dale Walzel passed to Glenn Roesler for the extra point.

Unable to find a receiver Orsag brought the ball in himself for the next TD.

Mike Williams made two straight TD's for Milano with only one PAT attempt successful.

Glenn Roesler ended the Badgers' scoring for the night as he caught a pass from Orsag. The extra-point attempt failed.

Williams made one last touchdown for Milano and the extra point was kicked by Doyle Hartley. The final score was 55-28.

The Buckholts Badgers battle with the Salado Eagles Friday, Oct. 27.

COPYRIGHT 1972 BY THE CARR RATINGS SERVICE

SPECIAL:

THE BEST WAY TO DETERMINE THE VALUE OF ANY RATINGS SERVICE IS TO COMPARE ITS ACCURACY RECORD WITH THE OTHER LEADING SERVICES. BY USE OF THE BEST AVAILABLE MATERIAL, THE FOLLOWING RESULTS ARE SHOWN THROUGH THE GAMES OF OCTOBER 22, 1972.

| | HIT | MISSED | TIES | PCT. | SCORES |
|-----------------|------|--------|------|------|--------|
| CARR RATINGS | 1045 | 280 | 27 | 789 | 1 |
| COMPETITOR # 1- | 741 | 308 | 20 | 706 | 1 |
| COMPETITOR # 2- | 329 | 138 | 9 | 704 | 0 |

ANOTHER WAY, TO HELP DETERMINE THIS, IS TO SEE WHICH SERVICE PICKS THE MOST CLOSE GAMES. THIS CAN USUALLY BE DONE BY SIMPLY LOOKING AT THE NUMBER OF "TIE GAMES" IN THE RECORDS. PLEASE NOTE THAT WE ARE LEADING OUR COMPETITORS BY 27 TO 20, AND BY 27 TO 9.....
STILL ANOTHER WAY, TO HELP DETERMINE THIS, IS TO SEE WHICH SERVICE HITS THE "GREATEST NUMBER" OF GAMES ON WHICH THEY HAVE DISAGREED WITH THEIR COMPETITORS. LAST WEEK WE DISAGREED WITH OUR TWO MAIN COMPETITORS IN A TOTAL OF 27 GAMES; WE HIT 26 AND MISSED ONLY 7.....

SCHOOL BOND ELECTION INFORMATION

WHO CAN VOTE:

All registered voters in the Cameron Independent School District are entitled to vote in the School Bond Election. This includes those who own taxable property and those who do not. The ballots will be counted separately and a majority of the total votes cast must be in favor in order for the bond election to pass. Even if a majority of the total votes are cast in favor of the propositions and the taxpayers do not vote a majority in favor, then the election fails. The counting of the two kinds of ballots separately and the rules concerning what kind of a majority is required have been laid down by Federal Court decisions. We have no choice but to follow these rules and regulations in holding the election.

TWO PROPOSITIONS ON BALLOT: In the School Bond Election on October 28th, there will be two propositions to be decided by each voter. One of the propositions will be to authorize the School Trustees to issue bonds in the amount of 1.25 million for the construction, renovation and equipment of the school buildings and the other proposition will be to authorize the Trustees to levy, assess and collect the taxes to pay off the bonds. In order for the School Bond proposal to carry, a majority of the voters must vote in favor of each of the two propositions. If one proposition carries and the other does not, then the entire proposal is considered defeated. Those in favor of the bond election should vote for each proposition and those opposed should vote against each proposition.

THE SCHOOL BOND PROPOSAL INCLUDES THE FOLLOWING:

- YOE HIGH BUILDING: 6 new classrooms; new restrooms, flooring, ceilings, lighting and halls and window air conditioning units in all classrooms.
- PRESENT GYMNASIUM: Install new showers and convert to girls' gym for State required P.E. classes with space for Media Center and Teachers' Lounge.
- ADA HENDERSON BUILDING: New lighting and ceiling in cafeteria; new flooring and remodeling throughout building, including restrooms and window air conditioning units in all classrooms.
- NEW GYM AND FIELD HOUSE: To provide adequate space and facilities for athletics and State required boys' physical education classes.
- JUNIOR HIGH BUILDING: Window air conditioning units in all classrooms.
- BEN MILAM BUILDING: 4 new classrooms to take care of State required kindergarten classes; covered play area for children and window air conditioning units in all classrooms.

Vote at the Homemaking Department Building at the corner of 12th and Fannin Streets between 8:00 o'clock A.M. and 7:00 o'clock P.M. on Saturday, October 28th.

ENDORSEMENT OF CAMERON I.S.D. SCHOOL BOND ELECTION BY BOARD OF TRUSTEES

After almost two years of study and planning, your Cameron Independent School District Board of Trustees, with the advice and assistance of local school administration, two architects and experts from the Texas Education Agency, has developed the program offered in the school bond election in order to take care of the most urgent present needs and provide for the future of your schools.

At the meeting of the school board on October 9th, all of the trustees were present and voted unanimously to call the election for Saturday, October 28, 1972.

It is felt by this board of trustees that the plan adopted by us and submitted to the voters is a sound and economical one and in line with the tax base of the Cameron Independent School District.

We, the members of the School Board, unanimously endorse the two propositions to be voted on by the citizens of this school district on Saturday, October 28th, and urge all eligible voters to go to the polls and vote in favor of the maintenance tax and school bond proposals.

Alcoa Reports Income

PITTSBURGH, Pa. Aluminum Company of America has reported net income for the third quarter of 1972 was $24,544,309, or $1.10 a common share, compared with $4,128,873, or 16 cents a share, a year earlier. Sales and operating revenues were $436,702,154 compared with $318,544,886 in the third quarter of 1971. Shipments of aluminum products were 415,000 tons against 283,000 a year earlier. For the first nine months, Alcoa's net income was $64,930,472, or $2.90 a share, compared with $45,190,163, or $2.01 a share, in 1971. Nine-month revenue was $1,302,107,111 in 1972 and $1,093,868,017 in 1971. Shipments during the same period were 1,223,000 tons in 1972 and 1,031,000 in 1971. The third quarter and nine-month earnings include 18 cents a share from Alcoa's sale of a minority interest in Mirro Aluminum Company. Included in the equity earnings are real estate earnings of $6,729,450 for the quarter and $2,861,192 for the nine months. In these figures is 40 cents a share from the sale of the company's interest in Park West Village, a high-rise apartment and commercial development in New York. Kips Bay Plaza, a similar New York development, was sold October 2. This sale will be reflected in year-end figures. John D. Harper, chairman of the board and chief executive officer, said - "Our domestic smelters operated at about 85 percent of capacity throughout the quarter. Aluminum shipments continued at record levels, although somewhat lower than in the first two quarters. Prices generally held at the 'bottomed-out' level reached earlier this year, with some marginal improvement in some areas, while costs moved up still further. "Costs of many materials and services purchased during the third quarter were up substantially over similar costs in 1971. Second-year labor increased that went into effect June 1 under contracts signed in 1971 applied throughout the quarter. These increased costs were offset in part by Alcoa's continuing program of cost reduction through improved productivity and operating economies. "With the general vigor of the economy expected to continue through 1973, it is reasonable to expect shipments to remain high. As the gap between capacity and shipments narrows, price realizations should improve. Such improvement is necessary before profit from Alcoa's aluminum operations can be brought back to an adequate level of return on the shareholders' investment."

Head-On

Research, surveys, new legislation, and action programs are all signs that we are at last moving to meet the problem of drinking-driving, before it meets us on the road. The Central Texas Alcohol Safety Action Project is concentrating on getting the problem drinking driver, who causes over fifty per cent of traffic fatalities off the road.
